

Project 1 - Milestone 4

I was satisfied with the final result I got for this project. However, for next time, I would definitely start earlier since I met lots of unanticipated problems which wasted a lot of time and frustrated me a lot. Also, I changed lots of my mind when I was building the app. It was almost rebuilding the initial thoughts. I'd make sure all my initial thoughts at least make sense to me next time. I like the layout of the 'Movie Questions' part and my launch screen. Also, I think having an explanation of what app is done in the launch screen will be much helpful to help the user understand how to use the app. Furthermore, there are only two games right now, I would spend more time adding features to make the app more playful.
